The gray health code means expired.

The red health code means PCR test didn't pass verification.

The green health code means PCR test has passed verification.

The yellow health code means PCR test has not reviewed yet.